5 PERSONS PERISHED

Entire Family Burned to Death Near Boston, Mass.

HUSBAND, WIFE, 3 CHILDREN

Scene of the Fire Was Several Miles From the Center of the City, and Upon the Arrival of the Firemen, the House Was a Mass of Fire.

Boston, Dec. 28.—Five persons were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the house of John Clark at Watertown, a suburb, early Friday. Every member of the Clark family met death in the flames.

The dead are:

John Clark, his wife and their three children, John, aged 11; Philip, aged 6, and Doris, aged 2.

The flames had made great headway when first discovered by a neighbor, shortly after 1 o'clock.

The house was about 2 miles from the center of the town and by the time the firemen reached the scene, the house had been burned almost to the ground.

The firemen were able to locate the bodies of the father and two boys, but the mother and little girl were not found until the ruins of the house had cooled sufficiently to permit a more thorough search.

The house was valued at $5,000.

GYPSY CAMP ROBBED.

During Bethrothal Celebration Thieves Steal Large Sum.

New York, Dec. 28—An entire gypsy camp is under arrest, from the king down, on complaint of the queen of another camp, who accuses those under arrest of having robbed her of $8,216.

Dora Peares is queen of a band of Hungarian gypsies camped on the edge of the city, on the Bronx. Gus Stanley is king of a band of English gypsies camped nearby.

Queen Dora's daughter and King Gus, a son, have long been in love with each other and it was finally agreed between their royal parents that they should be married, Queen Dora paying to King Gus $500 to bind the bargain.

So, on Thursday night, King Gus gave a party in celebration of the betrothal, and invited all of Queen Dora's followers to his camp. One girl was left to watch the Hungarian camp. During the evening a man and woman called at the camp to have their fortunes told, and while the girl was busy with their fortunes, some one slit the tent behind her and made way with the royal treasury, a bag containing Queen Dora's savings of sixteen years.

SHOT BY BIRMINGHAM CHIEF.

Andriff Became Unruly and Bit the Finger of the Chief of Police.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 28.—Chief of Police James Merriman shot and probably fatally wounded a Macedonian, Jim Andriff, while resisting arrest.

Andriff was arrested by the chief on a trivial offense, and on the way to the station Andriff became unruly and in his efforts to escape got the chief's finger in his mouth, biting it severely. The chief drew his pistol and attempted to strike the prisoner, when Andriff seized it. In the struggle the pistol was discharged, the ball passing through Andriff's neck, causing paralysis.

Father Killed by Son.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 28.—Charles Schroff, aged 44 years, proprietor of International Hall, 256 East Genesee street, a saloon and bowling alley, was shot and instantly killed on Thursday afternoon by his son, Charles, aged 20. Schroff, Sr., it is said, had been drinking heavily of late and quarreled with his wife, and it is said he struck her, when she called on her son to protect her. He came into the room and shot his father, the first shot taking effect, killing him almost instantly. The son was arrested. He claims he shot in self-defense.

SALOONS TO CLOSE SOON.

Absolute Prohibition Goes Into Effect in Georgia on Jan. 1st.

Atlanta, Dec. 28—Wednesday there will be closed in Atlanta under the state prohibition law eighty-six whisky saloons, twenty-three beer saloons, twenty-one wholesale liquor houses and two wholesale beer houses.

Of these there are sixty-one whisky saloons for white people and twenty-five for negroes; seventeen beer saloons for whites and six for negroes.

With the saloons and wholesale houses, one brewery will go out of business. As to what will be done with the brewery is not yet known, as the proprietors decline to give out any information.

With the closing of the whisky houses will come the cutting down of the city's receipts from licenses to the amount of $131,112.50, the exact amount of which was paid into the city treasury from that source last year.

It is estimated that the amount of capital which has been invested in the whisky business in Atlanta is between $750,000 and $1,000,000.

Much of this, it is said, will be invested in the city in other enterprises. Some will be withdrawn to other cities, as several of the whisky dealers have given notice that they would carry on the same business in Chattanooga, Jacksonville and other cities.

The wiping out of the whisky business all at one time will cause quite a change in one respect of the city's business affairs. This was done to a certain extent once before when Fulton county went dry under local option, but then the wine houses and the wholesale whisky dealers whose licenses ran over kept open for some time after prohibition went into effect. Next Wednesday the city will be absolutely dry.

HAD DYNAMITE IN POCKET.

Stick Exploded, Blowing Boy's Body Through Parlor Window.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 8.—Dan Bradley, 16 years old, son of a widow at Pratt City, a mining suburb of Birmingham, died Thursday morning as a result of a Christmas party given at Mike Dugan's house Wednesday night. The boy carried a piece of dynamite in his coat pocket.

While on the porch he was jarred and the dynamite exploded. The boy's right leg was torn off and his body was thrown violently through a window into the parlor, where the guests were assembled. Several boys and girls were knocked down and others were bady shaken up by the explosion and by the boy striking them in his flight. The house was badly wrecked.

Legislation on Rates.

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 28.—Asked as to the progress of railroad rate litigation and the trend of events leading up to the assembling of the general assembly in special session to ratify the pending compromise, Governor Glenn said Thursday that he was expecting almost any tick of the clock to mark the arrival of the communication for which he was waiting before taking imporant action in the matter. He added: "I don't consider there is really any doubt about the assembling of the legislature. The only question is just when the case will be issued and for what date."

Shot to Death in Buggy.

Columbus, Ga., Dec. 28.—Ben Edwards, a Russell county, Alabama, merchant, was shot and killed by Roscoe Gentry, a farmer of that county, while the two were riding in a buggy from Hatchechubbee to Uchee, Ala., Wednesday night. There were no witnesses to the tragedy and the cause can only be conjectured. They had been very close friends.

Destructive Fire at Abbeville.

Abbeville, Ga, Dec. 28—The worst fire that Abbeville has had for years occurred here Thursday night. The loss will amount to $30,000. The entirt property known as the Lassiter hotel has been destroyed.

Shot to Death About 10 Cents.

Rome, Ga., Dec. 28.—As the result of a dispute over ten cents, Sim Smith, a negro furnace hand, was killed on Christmas afternoon. He was struck with a brick.

COLLISION IN A FOG

Three Persons Killed and Dozen Injured.

ACCIDENT NEAR CAMDEN, N. J.

Fatal Rear-End Collision Occurs on the Elevated Tracks of the Pennsylvania Railway—Fire Added to the Difficulties of Rescue.

Camden, N. J., Dec. 28.—Three persons were killed and more than a dozen others were injured in a rear-end collision on the elevated tracks of the Pennsylvania railway a short distance from the station in this city. The cars were so badly smashed that it will be several hours before the exact number of persons caught in the wreck will be known. Fire added to the difficulties of the work of rescue.

The trains involved were the express from Atlantic City and the Pemberton accommodation train. These trains were due in the Camden station at 8:21 a. m. There was a very thick fog when the accident occurred.

The express train was made up of two baggage cars, one parlor car and three coaches and the accommodation train consisted of a combination car and four coaches.

Both trains, it is said, were running cautiously, as they approached the station. The engineer of the Pemberton train, because of the fog, did not see the Atlantic City train, it is said, until he was close upon it. He jammed the brakes down, but it was too late.

The trains came together with considerable force. The tender of the Pemberton train telescoped the first car of its train, killing three persons and injuring at least four. The rear car of the Atlantic City express was wrecked. The wreckage immediately took fire from the locomotive and the police and fire departments of Camden were called into service.

The fact that the collision occurred on the elevated structure, made the work of rescue difficult. The rescuers could not reach the structure from the street but had to go to the wreck from the station at the foot of Market street.

All available help from the station and men in the railroad yards and shops were pressed into service and the injured were quickly taken from under the mass of wreckage and conveyed to the Cooper hospital and the West Jersey hospital.

The fire was extinguished before it reached the victims pinned under the wreckage.

LOVER FILLED WITH BIRD SHOT.

Sensational Denoeument of Attempted Elopement at Albany.

Leesbur, Ga., Dec. 28.—B. W. Adkins, an employee of the Lee County Journal, was filled with birdshot in front of the home of Deputy Clerk J. W. Morgan, a prominent citizen of this county.

The shooting came as the denoeument of an elopement planned by Mr. Adkins and Miss Nona Morgan.

It has not been clearly developed whether the father or the brother of the young lady did the shooting.

Just as Mr. Adkins drove up in front of the house the shot was fired. It was preceded by a warning cry from Miss Morgan.

The shot took effect in the face, neck and shoulders of Adkins.

He returned the fire with a rifle, but his shots were without effect.

Two Children Cremated.

Jacksboro, Tenn., Dec. 28.—The home of John Tillery, two miles from this place, was destroyed by first Thursday and two children, a boy and of five and a girl of two years, were burned to death. They had been left alone in the house by the parents.

Fired Shot Through Head.

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 28.—After firing one shot at his wife, Charles Keanon, a Louisville and Nashville switchman, killed himself by firing a bullet through his head. He was out of work and despondent.

TRAGEDY NEAR SPRING PLACE.

Country Dance Ended in Killing of One of the Participants.

Spring Place, Ga., Dec. 28.—News reached here Wednesday that John Tankersley, a young man twenty-three years old, was shot and killed Tuesday night at the home of E. Williams, near this place. A number of young people had gathered to have a dance. While eating supper some exceptions were taken and some remarks made by some one about how certain young men drank their coffee, and a general row followed.

The light was blown out. Mr. Williams and Roscoe Russell clinched and fell to the floor, both of them receiving some cuts about the face. While this altercation was going on some one of the party fired a pistol several times, one ball taking effect in the throat of young Tankersley, which proved fatal in a few minutes.

Roscoe Russell gave up to Sheriff Willbanks on a charge of assault to murder on E. Williams, and gave a bond for $1,000 for his appearance at the February term of the superior court. Just who did the shooting has not yet come to light, and no warrant has been sworn out for the homicide.

RALEIGH CLOSES DISPENSARY.

Twenty-Four Saloons Were Voted Out in Favor of the Dispensary.

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 28—By a majority of 547 Raleigh has voted out its liquor dispensary and becomes a prohibition city.

In the city there were 928 votes for prohibition against 381 for dispensary and two for saloons. The dispensary has been in operation here for four years, twenty-four saloons having been voted out in favor of the dispensary.

The sales have amounted to $250,000 a year, with about $75,000 profit, this being placed to the credit of the school fund, the road fund and the city expense account. It reduced taxation, but the voters here felt that its influence was not for the city's best and voted it out. The election was a quiet one.

Macon Had Fine Celebration.

Macon, Ga., Dec. 28.—The celebration of Christmas in Macon was an ideal one. The weather early promised all that could be desired and people came out early. The lid was on in the saloons and there seemed few who had an inclination to break the law. The police have had no unusually hard work to do, but the usual drunks were on hand and a session of police court was necessary to clear police barracks of the offenders. There were no very hard cases, and the plain drunk was the most ordinary offense.

Great Famine in Turkey.

Boston, Dec. 28.—The American board of commissioners for foreign missions has received advices from the interior of Turkey showing unusually severe famine conditions. Bread is double its usual price, wheat and other cereals are considerably higher than last year, and prices for other necessities are four or five times higher than fifteen years ago. Famine is also threatening other villages near Erzroom and few of the inhabitants have the means of escaping either to America or to Russia.

Coach for Yale Team.

New York, Dec. 28.—It is stated in Yale graduate circles here that "Tad" Jones, this year's great quarter-back, will be coach of the Yale football team next year. It has always been the custom for the captain of the team to return the following year as coach, but Captain Bigelow has decided to give up athletics altogether. Jones will graduate in June, but will return to Yale as director of the Y. M. C. A. of the Sheffield scientific school, and will be able to act as head coach without interfering with his other duties.

Mail Pouch Stolen.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 28.—A mail pouch with about 1,000 letters, containing holiday parcels of money, jewelry, checks, etc., was stolen at Merrian Junction between the hours of 8 and 11 o'clock on the evening of Dec. 24. The empty pouch was discovered in a box car Thursday at Madison.

COMPLIMENT TO MISS GOODE.

This Popular Young Lady Received Fine Vote as Queen of Carnival.

A great deal of interest has been manifested during the past three or four days in the successful candidate for Queen of the Carnival which is to appear in this city the coming week. There has been several young ladies in the contest, being nominated and supported by their friends and admirers, and on Friday night, when the final vote was counted, it was announced that Miss Lovie Goode, one of Gainesville's handsomest and most popular young ladies, had won the honor, Miss Goode receiving 9,451. This was indeed a compliment to the lady, but one well deserved, and one which The Sun and her friends feel sure she appreciates.

The other young ladies also received complimentary votes, which it is needless to add they also appreciate, realizing that there can be but one queen.

LOST A FINE DOG.

Some Person Maliciously Poisoned Fine Canine of C. F. Goodman.

Friends of C. F. Goodman are sympathizing with him in the loss of his fine bull, "Bullet," which some person had the cruelty to poison on Thursday.

"Bullet" was a fine dog, and was regarded as a harmless and affectionate canine, with more than ordinary intelligence. He has been kept up since the passing of the ordinance preventing bull dogs from roaming at large without a muzzle; but even if the dog had been at large, he was not of a disposition which would cause any uneasiness, as he was very gentle and affectionate, and has never caused any trouble.

Mr. Goodman naturally feels very "sore" toward the party who administered the poison, as well he might be.

HAD A BIG DANCE.

The People of Waldo Indulged With Delight in Terpsichorean Art.

The good people of Waldo, always awake to the mutual interests of those about them, participated in a big dance at the town hall, or opera house, on Thursday evening, when "the whole town" turned out to celebrate Christmas and indulge in a good, social time.

The music, which was up-to-date in every respect, was by a local orchestra, but the time was so perfect and the music so good that the aggregation sounded like a professional band from Jacksonville or some other city.

The dance was well attended from Waldo and immediate surroundings, and in all proved a most enjoyable affair, lasting until well in the morning.

Successful Cat Hunt.

An enjoyable, as well as a successful wild-cat hunt occurred early Saturday morning, the participants being Sheriff L. W. Fennell and his guests, J. L. Boulware of Texas, and Steve Cullen of Hague.

The hunt was made in the hammock on Newnan's Lake, and the party succeeded early in the morning in "jumping" a big cat. After a chase of about two and a half hours the cat was killed.

Mr. Boulware states that he is from Texas, and is regarded as rather a good marksman, but that Sheriff Fennell, who killed this cat, made one of the prettiest shots he ever saw, as the animal was killed through underbrush at a great disadvantage.

Weston to Make a Change.

E. M. Weston, who has for the past few months been efficiently filling the position of billing clerk in the freight department of the Seaboard Air Line railroad, has tendered his resignation, the same to take effect on the 1st prox. He will be succeeded by W. F. Neeley, who is also a good railroad man, and who will no doubt prove a valuable representative of the company's interests.

It is understood that Mr. Weston will be connected with the Eddins Manufacturing Company in the capacity of book-keeper.

MRS. JOLLY BURNED.

Further Particulars of the Sad Accident of Well-Known Waldo Lady.

The Sun a few days ago contained a notice to the effect that Mrs. Belle Jolly, a well-known lady of Waldo, had been seriously burned, but the following, from The Waldo News gives the particulars of this most deplorable misfortune:

"The most horrible accident that has occurred in this city for years was the accidental burning of Mrs. Belle Jolly last Friday afternoon.

"Mrs. Jolly was standing before the fire in her room upstairs in her father's home, when her dress became ignited by a burning brand on the hearth that spread with such rapidity before she could descend the stairs that her clothes were all on fire when she reached her mother, who assisted by A. L. King, who heard the screams while passing, succeeded in wrapping a large rug about her which extinguished the fire, but too late to save her from frightful burns on different portions of her body.

"Mrs. Hicks burned her hands badly in the meantime. Dr. Boring was summoned immediately and had all possible done to relieve Mrs. Jolly, who is still critically ill from the effects. This is the second daughter Mr. and Mrs. D. Hicks have had burned, as all will remember the sad burning of their beautiful young daughter, Miss Lola, ten years ago in the same house. They have the sympathy of all."

BEGGAR PRINCE COMPANY.

This Favorite Troupe Will Appear in Gainesville Three Nights.

It is with pleasure that we can announce the engagement of the Beggar Prince Opera Co. for three nights, commencing December 31.

The repertoire this season includes all new operas, the special opera being a grand scenic production of "The Adventures of Fra DiaVolo." The plot of this famous opera details the life and adventures of a robber who holds in the mountains of Italy. First disguised as a marquis and then as "DiaVolo" he is feared alike by rich and poor. The opera contains beautiful music; also clean comedy parts, and a pretty chorus of girls. The last act, at the foot of the black rocks, where "DiaVolo" meets his death at the hands of the soldiers, is considered the best ever written for a comic opera. Mr. Harry Lea Velle, the well-known tenor, will be seen as "DiaVolo."

Seats now on sale at Miller's.

Dont miss the best show of the season.

Babies' Branch Entertainment.

The annual entertainment for the Little Helpers, the babies' branch of the Junior Auxiliary of the Holy Trinity church, was held at the rectory yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The entertainment was well attended, all the babies of the church being present. There was a Christmas tree, and many presents were served, after which delightful light refreshments were served.

In the Mayor's Court.

Margaret Clay and Fannie Joiner, two colored women, were arraigned in the municipal court Saturday morning upon a charge of disorderly conduct, and were fined $5 and costs each.

Steckert Murray was also arraigned upon a charge of disorderly conduct, and he was required to pay a fine of $10 and "the trimmings."

All fines were paid.

Passed Examination Successfully.

James Donahue, New Britain, Conn., writes: "I tried several kidney remedies, and was treated by our best physicians for diabetes, but did not improve until I took Foley's Kidney Cure. After the second bottle I showed improvement, and five bottles cured me completely. I have since passed a rigid examination for life insurance." Foley's Kidney Cure cures backache and all forms of kidney and bladder trouble. J. W. McCollum & Co.

CONGRESSMAN CLARK IS STILL ACTIVE

Matter of Having Refunded the Taxes Collected on Cotton.

PRESENTS A RESOLUTION

Following the Bill Providing for the Refund of Money Collected Illegally as a Cotton Tax From the Growers of the South.

With a full determination to accomplish his purpose, if energy counts for anything, Congressman Frank Clark, of the Second District, has followed up the bill recently introduced by him to provide for the refunding of taxes collected on cotton during the Civil War and for a period afterward, with a resolution.

The Sun published in a recent issue the bill in toto, which was referred to the committee on claims, and following this bill Congressman Clark presented the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States be, and he is hereby, directed to send to the House of Representatives at the earliest possible day the following information, namely:

"First—A detailed statement showing the amount of money collected by the Government of the United States under and by virtue of the Act of Congress of July 1st, 1862, which levied a tax of one-half of one cent per pound on cotton; said statement to show the amount collected in each State and Territory of the United States, and, where possible, the names of the persons, firms, and corporations from whom collected in each State and Territory and the amount collected from each of such persons, firms, and corporations.

"Second—A detailed statement showing the amount of money collected by the Government of the United States under and by virtue of the Act of Congress of March 7th, 1864, which levied a tax of two cents per pound on cotton; said statement to show the amount collected in each State and Territory of the United States, and, where possible, the names of the persons, firms, and corporations from whom collected in each State and Territory and the amount collected from each of such persons, firms, and corporations.

"Third—A detailed statement showing the amount of money collected by the Government of the United States under and by virtue of the Act of Congress of July 13, 1866, which levied a tax of three cents per pound on cotton; said statement to show the amount collected in each State and Territory of the United States, and, where possible, the names of the persons, firms, and corporations from whom collected in each State and Territory and the amount collected from each of such persons, firms, and corporations.

"Fourth—A detailed statement showing the amount of money collected by the Government of the United States under and by virtue of the Act of Congress of March 2, 1867, which levied a tax of two and one-half cents per pound on cotton; said statement to show the amount collected in each State and Territory of the United States, and, where possible, the names of the persons, firms, and corporations from whom collected in each State and Territory and the amount collected from each of such persons, firms, and corporations.

"Fifth—A full and complete detailed statement showing each and every payment made by the United States to the taxes thereon under the said Act of July 1, 1862; July 13, 1866; and closing particulars of amount sold in amount claimed as due realized from each sale disposition of where the proceeded amount claimed where possible, the firms, and corcotton or had sold to pay taxes thereon."

"Parvin Almost a Poet."

Lee Parvin, who is here heralding the coming of the well-known Beggar Prince Opera Company who open their annual engagement here Tuesday evening, December 31st, sat himself down on a cheese box yesterday afternoon and wrote the following:

I wandered 'round the city, Tom,
To take in all the sights—
Stayed out till half-past eight o'clock
Watching electric lights;
And then I saw an "opera" billed,
'Twas called the "Beggar Prince"—
It was the best I ever saw,
And I've seen none better since.

They used to call it singing, Tom,
Was what I aim to say,
But they've got another name
They know it by today—
It's "comic opera" now, Tom,
And say! it's worth your while
To hear this Beggar Prince troupe
And watch those girlies smile.

Now Gainesville has never gained great renoun,
In fact it's a modest sort of a town;
Nine or ten thousand—something like that—
Tho' it's not hard to find upon the map;
Yet everyone here will go home filled with joy
Who hear the Beggar Prince Opera Company sing, my boy.

For ten long years they have been on the hike.
Riding by day—playing at night;
They've played all the big ones, and sometimes a "punk"
And make the longest kind of a jump—
To get into Gainesville but it will surely be queer
If it's not the best we have ever had here.

PISTOL DUEL WITH ROBBERS.

Shooting Affray Follows Attempt to Loot Railway Depot.

Smithsboro, Ills., Dec. 28—In a pistol battle following the robbery of the Vandalia passenger depot here early Friday one of the robbers was shot several times and Oscar Brown, city marshal, of Sorento, Ills., was wounded twice.

Both men are in a serious condition. The companion of the wounded robber was arrested and locked up at Greenville, Ill., four miles away, where his comrade was also locked up after being given medical treatment.

Admiral Dewey 70 Years of Age.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Admiral George Dewey was 70 years of age Thursday. He is in splendid health and robust in physique. As is his custom, he spent the morning at his office, with the exception of an hour when he attended a meeting of the Naval Relief association, of which he is president. Numerous officers of the navy and army and other friends called on him at his office and later at his home.

Little Brown Jug on the Move.

Columbus, Ga., DeDc. 28.—The appearance of the express offices and the trains leaving Columbus this week indicate that the little brown jug really and truly has the travel bug, as it has been poetically expressed. The shipments of liquor out of Columbus to towns and villages in west and south Georgia are the heaviest ever known, and it is expected that they will increase each day until Dece. 31 is reached.

Costly Fire at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Dec. 28.—Fire destroyed nearly the entire block bounded by Mission, Jessie, First and Second streets early Thursday morning. Several factories and stores were burned out and the loss will amount to more than $200,000. Most of the buildings destroyed were only temporary affairs, so that the loss was principally in stocks carried by the firms involved.

How Diphtheria is Contracted.

One often hears the expression, "My child caught a severe cold which developed into diptheria," when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted. For sale by all druggists.

Onions at a Bargain.

New York, Dec. 28.—Onions were sold at a bargain in New York Thursday. The chief of the seizure division of the custom house auctioned off 4,473 boxes of Spanish onions which arrived on the steamer Eureka and on which the consignees refused to pay $880 due. The Spanish onions ordinarily sell at from 50 to $1.10 a bushel, but these only brought from 11 to 13 cents, the total amount realized being $499.70, only a little over half of the amount of the duty.

Boy Remembered by President.

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 28.—President Roosevelt has sent a letter and a $10 bill to Jacob Kr[illegible], a 14-year-old boy, in return for a Christmas gift which the boy sent to the president. The gift consisted of a calendar decorated with the picture of an American eagle, from the beak of which issues a scroll on which is the name of the president.

Arrested on Embezzlement Charge.

New York, Dec. 28.—On complaint of the New Jersey Boiler company of Boonton, N. J., Samuel H. Debrell was arrested and placed in the Morristown jail charged with the embezzlement of $35,000. Debrell was employed as a bookkeeper by the company and was arrested as a result of an examination of his books at his home in Norfolk, Va.

James R. Curry, Sr., of St. Petersburg, celebrated his seventy-fourth birthday Friday. Mr. Curry is still in vigorous health and expects to celebrate many more birthdays. He moved to Key West in 1840, when the population of that city was less than 1,000. He is probably one of the oldest settlers and tells many interesting stories of the early history of Key West.

The Florida West Coast Company has purchased the steamer Vandalia to make daily connections from St. Petersburg to Tampa. The boat will be run on a two-and-one-half-hour schedule to Tampa, and will tie up in St. Petersburg for the night, which will give the people of St. Petersburg a boat on demand for excursions. Many moonlight rides on the bay will be planned.

A lady residing on Third street in Jacksonville was sandbagged by a negro robber Monday night about 6:30 o clock. The lady had just gotten off the street car on Main street and had started west when she was attacked before reaching Laura street. She was knocked to the ground and the robber grabbed for her handbag, but before he could get it, assistance reached her, being attracted by her screams.

Sheriff Van Pelt has returned to Pensacola from El Paso, Texas, without his man. Varn, for whom he went upon a warrant charging wife desertion. For over two weeks the sheriff has tried all manner of ways to get him back. The sheriff states that Varn's lawyers tried to bribe him, and that having failed Varn met him on the train as he was leaving El Paso and advised him not to return to Texas for him.

An effort is being made by the Board of Trade of Jacksonville to secure the location of a central warehouse for long staple cotton. A committee has been appointed to ascertain if the Seaboard railway will build a warehouse for the storage of this cotton, and whether or not there can be established a cotton market for the handling of Florida's cotton crop. The Board of Trade believes that Jacksonville should be the port from which the long staple cotton of this State should be exported.

The Christmas tree for the city's poor by the Salvation Army of Jacksonville brought a new delight to more than one hundred children of Jacksonville. It had been arranged by the Army to give a pair of new shoes to every child present and the work of fitting all the little feet proved quite a difficult task. It was accomplished, nowever, and in addition some little gifts for every child present was forthcoming. When the hall had closed and the little army of the poor filed out into the outer world again all hearts were happy.

Two negroes had a dispute about some shoes Christmas night in Cook's livery stable at Tampa, which resulted in Jim Jackson, who was drunk, stabbing another negro in the back as the latter had his ear glued to a telephone, listening to a coversation. Three stitches were taken in the wound by Dr. Anderson. Jackson was turned over to a patrolman. The prisoner admitted having done the stabbing, but declared he had done it in self-defense, other negroes having cut him and beat him with a club. He had no testimony to substantiate his story. He was sent to the stockade for 30 days.

Passenger Traffice Manager W. J. Craig and General Passenger Agent T. C. White of the Atlantic Coast Line, while in Jacksonville the other day, said that they did not think that the recent Wall street flurry and the condition of the money market would in the least affect the tourist travel to Florida this winter. They anticipate and are preparing for the heaviest travel of tourists to Florida this winter on record. Mr. Craig says that many of New York's and the East's wealthiest families whose custom heretofore was to visit Europe will this winter come to Florida, in order that they may be closer home. They also expect heavy travel from the West.

When to Go Home.

From The Bluffton (Ind.) Banner: "When tired out, go home. When you want consolation, go home. When you want fun, go home. When you want to show others that you have reformed, go home and let your family get acquainted with the fact. When you want to show yourself at your best go home and do the act there. When you feel like being extra liberal go home and practice on your wife and children first. When you want to shine with extra brilliancy go home and light up the whole household." To which we would add, when you have a bad cold go home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and a quick cure is certain. For sale by all druggists.

Commits Suicide in Jail.

Des Moines, Iowa, Dec. 28—J. C. Cain, convicted murderer of Charles H. Morris, a wealthy mine owner, committed suicide in the county jail here Thursday. He smuggled a razor into his cell and cut his throat from ear to ear. Cain was waiting transportation to the state prison at Fort Madison, to which he had been sentenced to life imprisonment.

600 MEN ARE LAID OFF.

Men Employed at Southern Pacific Shops Laid Off for a Week.

New Orleans, Nec. 28.—Men employed by the Southern Pacific railroad shops here announced Thursday night that they had been laid off for one week. About 600 men are employed at these shops.

In the absence of their superior officials those in immediate charge of the shops would not talk about the reported shut down.

Workmen at the Texas and Pacific railroad shops, numbering about 200 men, claimed they had been notified that their hours of work would be cut from eight to seven daily. No official confirmation was obtained.

A Home Made Happy by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

About two months ago our baby girl had measles which settled on her lungs and at last resulted in a severe attack of bronchitis. We had two doctors but no relief was obtained. Everybody thought she would die. I went to eight different stores to find a certain remedy which had been recommended to me and failed to get it, when one of the storekeepers insisted that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and our baby is alive and well today.—Geo. W. Spencer, Holly Springs, N. C. For sale by all druggists.

THE LATE STEPHEN R. MALLORY.

Not only has Florida lost what is hard to replace, but American public life has suffered a loss that few men are great and good enough in mingled soul and mind to repair.

The concensus of opinion of men who know both, and of those who knew the father principally, or entirely, by the traditions handed down by those who knew both, is that the younger S. R. Mallory was the intellectual superior of his father. The elder was fonder of society, and more brilliant, but not clearer nor sounder; more of an orator, but not more of a logician.

The younger S. R. Mallory had his father's remarkable sense of justice, which neither animosities nor the most devoted affection seemed to obscure. His sense of proportion and value of facts in their relation to each other was altogether exceptional, and while he did not shine in eloquence, his rhetoric was as nearly faultless as speakers' rhetoric is apt to be, and there was in all his speeches, whether prepared or impromptu, in his conversation, and in his writing, from his earliest manhood, a lucidity, incisiveness and trenchant exactness in the use of the words needed to express finer shadings of thought, that made him more convincing than oratory and more satisfying than any finery in diction.

There was nothing subtle about him, but he was subtle both in thought and in expression, and the privilege of his intimate acquaintance was to the intelligent and receptive mind an education.

His manner was calm to the extent that those who did not know him well were apt to mistake for coldness. A greater mistake could not well have been made, for not only was he not cold, he was sensitive and warmhearted, though his intellectual poise and his iron will and masterly self-control enabled him to conceal emotion with singular completeness. Those who knew him intimately know that he was sensitive, alike to approval and adverse criticism. His appreciation of commendation, however, never took the form of adulation, to swerve him from his course, as he saw it, for the sake of being commended, and no amount of adverse criticism, if he foresaw it, could alter his line of action when he felt that he was right.

No relative, no friend, none to whom he ever owned even the slightest debt of gratitude, found him at any time less than kind and considerate. No enemy ever had any just cause to accuse him of unfairness, no rival of trickery, no man of aught but straight, clean, open dealing. He abhorred shams and pettiness, and while he was not unkind to the petty or the insincere, he had nothing—he could have nothing—in common with them except courtesy, if they so chose.

A man of intense feeling and absorbing affections, but dispassionate-minded, he was not easy to understand if one did not know him well, but to know him well was to know, in his presence and out of his presence, that his greatness of mind and soul were potent influences, and that to know him was a privilege and a help at the times when men's souls falter and the spirit faints.

It is a common saying that men are at their truest and their worst in their homes. Elsewhere, Stephen R. Mallory commanded respect, and much more. In his home, it were a sterile soul, indeed, that did not love him.

And, yet, wider, and higher, than his justice, his intellect, his gentleness, his loyalty to friends and his fairness to enemies, the great secret of his life was his integrity. What he thought was wrong, he would not do, whatever the loss; what he deemed demanded by right, he would do, whatever the cost; and, too, no man is of record as saying that Stephen R. Mallory was ever other than honorable and clean in his dealings.

To have known such a man, to know such a man can, and actually did, make a distinct success of the actual life in what we are too often included to sneeringly refer to as "practical politics," is to have the fountains of optimism refilled.

Stephen R. Mallory taught all who knew him, all who are willing to read the story of his life in fair-mindedness, that a man can practice unsullied integrity and yet be an actual success. And this is a glory of Florida, and a blessing greater than can be confined by State lines or told in terms.—Pensacola Journal.

A GREAT MINE.

The Whitehorse (Yukon) Star, of which E. J. White is editor, refers to the following as "hot air," and says no old Yukoners ever met the Indians mentioned:

"The management of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which will be held in Seattle in 1909, proposes to reproduce at the exposition several of the famous mines of the North that made dozens of millionaires during 1898 and 1900. But the richest mine that the North has will not be reproduced for the simple reason that no white man has ever seen it and lived to tell the tale, so says The Post-Intelligencer.

"In the early days of the camp a certain tribe of Indians from the North arrived in Dawson for the first time. To the astonishment of the few that saw the new tribe every member had several ornaments carved from great nuggets of virgin gold. This tribe had never met the white men before and to the breathless inquiries the tribesmen told how near to where they lived was a stream in which the yellow metal could be picked up in chunks as big as one's fist. Nearby, they said, there was a cliff in which the metal stood out like moss on a mountain side.

"The Indians soon learned the value of their ornaments and shrewdly refused to tell where they got it. Nevertheless several prospectors tried to follow the tribe on the return to the northern village, but the wily red men easily succeeded in losing the less agile paleface. Since then there have been several more or less secret and always unsuccessful expeditions to find the gold of the Indians."

A few years ago the people of Raleigh, N. C., voted out the saloons and established a dispensary. The latter seems to have proven unsatisfactory, however, for last week the voters put the dispensary out of business, the county going for prohibition by a majority of 700.

The much-lauded "power of the press" is never more usefully employed than in assisting a worthy store to become a bigger store.

LYDIA DARRACH.

House, Philadelphia, Where She Played Eavesdropper.

One of the favorite stories connected with the Revolution is the tale of Lydia Darrach's patriotism, which like others of similar import, has been discredited by the discriminating few. Notwithstanding the cold water thrown upon the tradition it remains popular with all who know it. The house where the famous eavesdropping on the part of the Quakeress took place is not so well known. Those who have heard or read the story of Mrs. Darrach hardly need to be informed that she and her husband lived in what was called the Loxley house, once at the southeast corner of Second and Second streets. Little Second was the thoroughfare which runs in a southwestern direction from Dock street to Second street. The ground on which the Loxley house stood was acquired by Benjamin Loxley, a well-to-do carpenter, who owned practically a whole square in this vicinity, from George Clymer in April, 1759, and the Loxley little house was erected immediately. It was a speculation, for there is nothing to show that the owner ever lived there.

The house gained its fame from its peculiar facade, which was unlike anything in the city, and from the anecdote which connects Mrs. Darrach with the place. The great preacher Whitefield is said to have addressed multitudes from the balcony on one of his sixth or seventh visit to this country—1763 or 1769.

The Revolution had long since been fought and most of the patriots in their graves before the tale of Mrs. Darrach's bold adventure, which is believed to have saved Washington and his army from capture by the British, became known. In the first number of the first volume of the American Quarterly Review, issued in March, 1827, the story was told for the first time. It is credited to "Garden's Anecdotes of the American Revolution." The author of the story in the American Quarterly Review, however, must have had access to Major Garden's manuscript, for the story was not published in his book until the second edition was issued in the latter part of the year 1828.—Philadelphia Ledger.

STORIES OF TENNYSON.

Some of the Odd Ways of the Famous Poet.

The memoirs of the late William Allingham, the English poet, appear many interesting reminiscences of Tennyson. Allingham's first sight of him was at Twickenham, where Tennyson had been living. He says: "Soon came in a tall, broad shouldered, swarthy man, slightly stooping, with loose dark clothes and beard. He wore spectacles and was obviously very nearsighted. His cheeks and the dark pallor of them gave him an unhealthy appearance. He was a strange and almost wild figure. The great man peered at me and then shook hands cordially yet with a profound quietude of manner. He was then about forty-eight but looked much older."

In 1866 Allingham visited Tennyson at the latter's home, Farringford, in Freshwater, Isle of Wight. One morning they were talking on the downs together, and Allingham said that he felt very happy. Tennyson said gloomily, "I'm not at all happy—very unhappy." The reason, as Tennyson afterward explained, for his particular unhappiness was uncertainty regarding the condition and destiny of man. Allingham was very anxious to photograph him on this visit, but Tennyson positively refused. "You make bags under my eyes," he said.

On another time during this visit, as Allingham writes, they talked of ghosts. "Tennyson said: 'In my boyhood I had intuitions of immortality—indescribable! I have never been able to express them. I shall try some day.' I said that I, too, had felt something of that kind, whereat Tennyson, being in one of his less amiable moods, replied: 'I don't believe you have. You say it out of rivalry.'"

Allingham describes Tennyson's fondness for strange antics, such as jumping around and round like a pigeon, and says: "He is the only person I ever saw who can do the most ludicrous things without any loss of dignity."

Feet of the Ancient Greeks.

To walk through the British museum and a close examination of the pedal deformities of ancient art there show that they are all bad about the feet. "The Discobolus Thrower," a celebrated specimen, shows particularly bad examples of incipient bunion joints. If the foot of the Farnese Apollo, used as a model in most art schools, represents the foot of the average Greek corns and bunions must have been common in that classical country.—British Shoemaker.

The Earnest Word.

"You never can tell," observed Uncle Jim Sparks, "what lasting results may be accomplished by an earnest word spoken at the right time. Many a man has had the shape of his nose changed for life by calling another man a liar."—Chicago Tribune.

COOLED THE ADMIRAL.

An Answer For Which the High Official Was Unprepared.

Going into a port where the water was very deep—Rio Janeiro, I believe—relates Captain A. T. Mahan, the chain cables "got away," as the expression is, control was lost, and shackle after shackle tore out of the hawse holes, leaping and thumping, rattling and roaring. The admiral was on deck at the moment, and when the chain had been at last stopped and secured he said to the captain: "Alfred, send for the young man in charge of those chains and give him a good setting down. Ask him what he means by letting such things happen." The officer was sent for, and soon his questioning blue eyes appeared over the hatch coaming. Alfred was a mild person and clearly did not like his job. He could not have come up to the admiral's standard. The latter saw it and intervened: "Perhaps you had better leave it to me. I'll settle him." Fixing his eyes on the offender, he said sternly: "What do you mean by this, sir? Why in blazes did you not stop that chain?" The culprit, looking quietly at him, replied simply, "How in blazes could I?" This was a shift of wind for which the admiral was unprepared. He was taken flat back. After a moment's hesitation he turned to the captain and said meekly, yet with evident consciousness of a checkmate: "That's true, Alfred. How the blazes could he?"

OBSERVANCE OF EASTER.

Discrepancy In Computing the Date Not Corrected Until 1752.

The observance of Easter dates back to about the year 68, at which time there was much contention among the eastern and western churches as to what day the festival should be observed. It was finally ordained at the council of Nice in the year 325 that it must be observed throughout the Christian world on the same day. This decision settled that Easter should be kept upon the Sunday first after the fourteenth day of the first Jewish month, but no general conclusion was arrived at as to the cycle by which the festival was to be regulated, and some churches adopted one rule and some another. This diversity of usage was put an end to, and the Roman rule making Easter the first Sunday after the fourteenth day of the calendar moon was established in England in 669. After nine centuries a discrepancy in the keeping of Easter was caused by the authorities of the English church declining to adopt the reformation of the Gregorian calendar in 1582. The difference was settled in 1752 by the adoption of the rule which makes Easter day always the first Sunday after the full moon which appears on or next after the twenty-first day of March. If the full moon happens upon a Sunday, Easter is the Sunday after.

Seven Wonders of the World.

We have no indication of the existence of a cycle of seven wonders until about the end of the second century B. C. Then appears in an epigram of Antipater of Sidon an enumeration of seven great works, which prove to be the very ones later appearing as the seven wonders. They are (1) the walls of Babylon, (2) the statue of Zeus at Olympia, (3) the hanging gardens of Semiramis at Babylon, (4) the Colossus of Rhodes, (5) the pyramids of Memphis, (6) the mausoleum of Halicarnassus, (7) the temple of Diana (Artemis) at Ephesus. Within the next century Varro, by his leisurely allusion to the septem opera, betrays that the saying had already assumed current proverbial form. Diodorus, in the second half of the same century (first B. C.) speaks, too, of "the so called seven works," and Strabo, a little later, uses the very phrase, "the seven wonders." From this time on, at least, the septem miracula have an assured place in all the common lore of Rome.

SPECIE SCATTERED IN STREET.

Trolley Car Wrecks Express Wagon Containing Half Million.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—Canvass bags containing gold and silver coin to the amount of half a million dollars were scattered about the corner of LaSalle and Adams streets for a short time Thursday night but they were soon gathered up and taken to a place of safety under the protection of a squad of policemen.

An express wagon on its way from the Northwestern to the LaSalle street station with a load of specie guarded by Barney Toback, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Henry Kerker, of Chicago, was struck by a street car.

Toback and Kerker were thrown to the ground and the bags of specie on top of them. Toback received a fracture of the skull. Kerker was badly bruised by the heavy bags of money falling on him. Both were taken to a hospital.

ROB BANK OF $4,000.

Afterward Fierce Battle Took Place Between Burglars and Citizens.

St. Joseph, Mo., Dec. 28—The bank of Camden Point, 30 miles southeast of this city, was robbed by three men early Friday and $4,000 in currency was taken.

A fierce battle between citizens and the robbers took place in which many shots were exchanged, but the robbers finally escaped. They are being pursued by a posse and are believed to be surrounded in the hills near Dearborn, 6 miles from Camden Point.

The robbers were discovered by Professor Barhan, professor of the Camden Point college, who saw a light in the bank and aroused the citizens.

Three explosions were set off by the burglars after the alarm was given, wrecking the safe and the interior of the bank.

Rests on Mass of Garnets.

New York, Dec. 28.—That New York city rests on a mass of garnets is the discovery of Ralph E. Morgan, an English mineralogist, now visiting here. Mr. Morgan, while passing the subway excavation in Thirty-third street, stopped to look at the mass of rock thrown up and discovered a big garnet. He learned that the rock excavated was dumped at Sheepshead bay, and visited the dumping grounds. There he found a number of excellent garnets. Garnets are, however, of small value and there is no present prospect of mining being carried on in the city to any great extent.

Gallant Confederate Dead.

Winchester, Va., Dec. 28.—A telegram from Staunton, Va., announces the death of Colonel Uriel L. Boyce, of Boyce, Va. Colonel Boyce was 73 years of age and was for many years a leading figure in Virginia. Born in Missouri he served with distinction in the confederate army. Later he practiced law in Winchester and when the Shenandoah Valley railroad was projected he became its chief counsel and later president until the line was absorbed by the Norfolk and Western.

It took Ber[illegible] months to produce his work of art. The cast had been made and the chef's tool was a butcher knife.

Dance Ended in Death.

Chicago, Dec. 27.—Theresa Selin, twenty-three years old, was shot and instantly killed and Victor Stokes, fifteen years old, was shot through the arm by Frank Koselski, the fiance of the Salinsky girl, while returning from a dance here Wednesday night. Koselski was arrested. The motive for the shooting is not known by the police.

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivaled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Kills His Son for Burglar.

San Jose, Cal., Dec. 28.—Bertram Somers shot and killed his five-year-old boy, having mistaken him for a burglar. The little boy was walking in his sleep, it is believed. The parents were awakened by the noise in the room and seeing the outline of a figure near the window they concluded it was that of a burglar. Mr. Somers reached for his pistol and fired, killing the child instantly. Mr. Somers is the son of Robert Somers, a prominent temperance teacher in this city.

About Digestion.

It is not the quality of food taken but the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their functions. The result is a relish for your food, increased strength and weight, greater endurance and a clear head. Price 25 cents. Samples free. For sale by all druggists.

Says Killing Was Justifiable.

Flowery Branch, Ga., Dec. 28.—Frank Fraser, a son of Squire Thos. J. Fraser, of Clincfem district, Hall county, was shot and instantly killed here by H. H. Bennett. Bennett readily surrendered to arrest and is now in Hall county jail at Gainesville. He states that the killing was justifiable. Both parties are prominent young men of well known families.

Notice to Our Customers.

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug Law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. J. W. McCollum & Co.

OFFICERS AND SADDLES.

Jefferson Davis and a Joke He Did Not Appreciate.

When Jefferson Davis was secretary of war he ordered all his generals to learn to ride horseback. No finer horseman than Jefferson Davis ever lived. He won the love and hand of Zach Taylor's daughter by his distinguished presence in the saddle, as well as by his intrepidity at the cannon's mouth. When secretary of war he noticed that only a few officers in the service were capable horsemen and issued an order something like this:

"A liberal reward will be paid to any officer or private in the army who will offer a satisfactory device for keeping our soldiers from falling out of their saddles. Communications to the secretary of war will be regarded as confidential."

Captain George Horatio Derby, one of the leading army engineers of his day, used to write humorous and witty stories over the pen name of John Phoenix. He received a copy of Secretary Davis' order while improving the harbor of San Diego, Cal., and immediately forwarded the most intricate and accurate designs of his plan for keeping officers and men in the saddle. To the seat of each officer's "pants" he attached a bull ring, and another bull ring was attached to the saddle. The two bull rings were to be lashed together when the officer mounted his steed. "If that doesn't hold, nothing will," wrote Phoenix to the secretary. Davis was furious when he got this proposition and immediately ordered that Captain Derby should be court martialed for "official levity." The secretary felt that the army had been disgraced and wanted Derby severely punished. One of his intimates hastened to him. "Jeff," he whispered, "if you order a court martial for this little pleasantry of John Phoenix, one of the salt of the earth and immensely popular in the army, you will be made a laughingstock. The people will ridicule you out of office. Just laugh it off." Davis took his advice.—New York Press

Sitting on a High Hat

"If I were to offer to wager that I could sit squarely on my silk hat without crushing it, you would take me up, I suppose," said a clubman to a fellow member. "Well, you would lose," he continued. "A good silk hat should support the weight of a man say 146 pounds without yielding, providing the weight is applied gradually and carefully. The way to do it is to place the hat on a smooth, strongly supported surface, crown downward, and lay a board across the rim, in the hollow. On this seat yourself steadily and slowly, and you will find the hat does not yield. Of course, a hat that has once been bent or broken will not do. Nor is the rule invariable. It applies only to good hats. Have I ever tried it? Yes, I have, but not on my own hat."—Philadelphia Record.

Eating Onions.

Persons with dropsical tendencies should eat onions frequently. This simple cure has proved effective in many cases. In one instance the patient had been given up by several physicians and only tried the onions to please a friend. She was completely restored to health and, though that was five years ago has never had a return of the trouble. She ate the onions just as she would an apple, asking a great many during the day.—Exchange.

"Oh, no; just a married man with five grown daughters."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bedwetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, South Bend, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

THE PERFECT WAY

Scores of Florida Citizens Have Learned It.

If you suffer from backache, there is only one way to cure it.

The perfect way is to cure the kidneys.

A bad back means sick kidneys.

Neglect it, urinary troubles follow.

Doan's Kidney Pills are made for kidneys only.

S. B. Lemons, cigar maker, living at 1311 Ashlet street, Tampa, Fla., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me of backache and disorder of the kidneys. Two or three times on account of the pain in my back I was unable to work for several days. The secretions of the kidneys were in a very bad condition, dark in color, and if allowed to stand would become of the consistency of jelly. I tried various remedies, taking what seemed like gallons of medicine and I also put on plasters, but nothing helped me at all until I got Doan's Kidney Pills upon the advice of a friend of mine, and using them according to directions they cured me in a very short time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Queer Names.

"We Chinese," said the law student, "give our children queer names. Our girls, for instance, are not called Mabel, Jenny or Matilda, but Cloudy Moon, Celestial Happiness, Spring Peach or Casket of Perfumes.

"Our boys get less delicious names. Boys are made for work and wisdom rather than for dancing and pleasure, and their names show this, as Practical Industry, Ancestral Knowledge, Complete Virtue, Ancestral Piety, Discreet Valor.

"To our slaves we give still another set of names. Yes, those dear, pathetic little slaves of ours, some girls, some boys, who do a hundred various little tasks about the house, these lowly creatures have names like Not For Me, Joy to Serve, Your Happiness and Humble Devotion."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Danger In Asking Advice.

When you have a cough or cold do not ask someone what is good for it, as there is danger in taking some unknown preparation. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs, colds, and prevents pneumonia. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. J. W. McCollum & Co.

BILL FOR DIVORCE.

In the Circuit Court, Eighth Judicial Circuit, Alachua County, Florida—In Chancery. P. L. Hardee vs. Manda Hardee—Bill for Divorce, Order of Publication.

It appearing by affidavit appended to the bill filed in the above stated cause that Manda Hardee, the defendant therein named, is a non-resident of the State of Florida, that he believes the defendant is a resident of Louris, Horry county, State of South Carolina, and that there is no person in the State upon whom the service of a subpoena would bind said defendant, and that she is over the age of 21 years; it is therefore ordered that said non-resident defendant be and she is hereby required to appear to the Bill of Complaint filed in said cause on or before Monday, the 6th day of January, A. D. 1908, otherwise the allegations of said bill will be taken as confessed by said defendant.

It is further ordered that this order be published once a week for six consecutive weeks in The Gainesville Sun, a newspaper published in said county and State.

On Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. O. B. Bailey, North Gainesville, the ladies of the Advent Christian church expect to give an oyster supper, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the church. Functions given by the good ladies of this church are always successful, hence a success is anticipated at this supper. Oysters will be served in all styles at a reasonable price.

With a high appreciation of the patronage extended them during the year just coming to a close, The G. W. Hyde Company takes advantage of the opportunity to extend best wishes for 365 days of happiness and prosperity to every customer—and in fact to everybody, for the coming year. Manager Gardner has certainly made a success of the business for the year now at an end, because of two reasons—his personal cleverness and the quality of the goods he has handled. It goes without saying that The G. W. Hyde Company and its business will prosper the same for the year 1908, as the public find it a pleasure, as well as a satisfaction, to deal at this store.
